MEDICAID REENTRY

SECTION 1115 DEMONSTRATION OPPORTUNITY

What is the Medicaid 1115 Waiver?

A new federal initiative that allows state Medicaid programs to cover health services for incarcerated individuals and juveniles up to 90 days before their release.

Why was it created?

To address critical health issues by improving access to care and coordination between correctional facilities and community providers, supporting successful reentry into the community.

How Does This Affect You?

The waiver streamlines transitional care, ensuring incarcerated individuals and juveniles continue to receive health services upon discharge. This approach aims to improve reentry outcomes and reduces the likelihood of recidivism.
